Chapter 8 SCHEME OF DELEGATION TO OFFICERS

8.1 Introduction	8.1
8.2 Delegation of Council functions	8.3
8.3 Delegation of Executive functions	8.15

8.1 Introduction

The principles of how delegation works are set out in sections 3.4 and 3.5 but are also copied at the end of this section.

The scheme of delegation sets out the extent to which the powers and duties of the Council are delegated to officers. Officers with delegated authority are able to take such action as may in his or her opinion be necessary or appropriate in connection with:

- (i) all operational management matters for those functions and service areas for which he or she has responsibility.
- (ii) persons and/or property for which he or she and his or her service has responsibility.
- (iii) the implementation of decisions properly authorised by the Council or a committee of the Council, the Cabinet, or a committee of the Cabinet or by an officer acting under delegated powers.
- (iv) the performance of any action for which he or she is specified as responsible in any policy, procedure or other document approved or adopted by the Council or a Committee of the Council, the Cabinet, or a Committee of the Cabinet or by an officer acting under delegated powers and making minor corrections to approved documents where the intention is clear.
- (v) all other functions, tasks and responsibilities listed in this scheme of delegation.
- (vi) anything which facilitates, or is conducive or incidental to, the discharge of the functions, tasks, or responsibilities listed in (i) to (v) above.

How delegation works

A body or person can at any time take back responsibilities they have delegated or decide to delegate them on certain conditions.

Officers do not have to use their delegated powers: they can ask the body or person that delegated them to decide.

The Chief Executive, directors and heads of service who have had something delegated to them can authorise other officers to do it on their behalf (unless it was delegated on condition that they do it themselves).

When exercising delegated powers an officer shall always have regard to the requirements of the Constitution, the financial, legal, and human resource implications of the decision and shall consult with staff in another service area if the decision is likely to impact on the work of that service area.

Any substantive or significant decision and the reasons for that decision shall be recorded in an appropriate manner.

The Chief Executive may authorise one officer to exercise the delegated powers of another officer (or exercise those delegated powers him or herself) in the absence of the officer holding the delegated powers. In addition, directors may exercise the delegated powers of any head of service in their directorate in the absence of that head of service if no sub-delegations have been put in place by the head of service and there is a need for a decision to be taken prior to the return of the head of service.

Interpreting the rules on delegation

When a responsibility is delegated in this Constitution, so is the authority to do anything necessary to carry it out (unless it was forbidden when the responsibility was delegated).

The exercise of delegated powers should involve each case being considered on its merits and that the decision taker should exercise discretion where that is appropriate.
